

Ionization Detox Foot Baths

Used to increase both physical and mental energy, vitality and stamina while detoxifying (purging) the body of harmful toxins, chemicals, radiation, pollution, synthetics, and other foreign matter that have clogged up in the layers. Its internal cleansing includes liver detoxification and parasite cleansing, which results in less body fluid retention, greater bladder control, a more balanced PH level, reduced inflammation, improved memory, a stronger immune system, and significant pain relief from headaches to gout and arthritis pain.

Theories developed in the study of Reflexology show that each foot is actually a channel (or Conduit) through which your body tries to detoxify itself of chemical wastes and heavy metals that are building up in the various parts of your body. During an Ionization Detox treatment session you will actually see the cleansing process take place as the compound electric current and magnetic field structure interacts with the water. The correct frequency required for cells to return to a healthy is achieved through the Ionization Detox Foot Bath and the waste that has been bound over the years will be eliminated. This therapeutic procedure also enhances the effects of other health therapies.
